

Rosoboronexport and Uralvagonzavod agree to jointly promote latest Russian armored vehicles abroad

On August 16, 2022, during the VIII Army 2022 International Military and Technical Forum, Rosoboronexport JSC and Uralvagonzavod Concern JSC signed a joint action program to promote products and services abroad in 2022 through 2025.

The program is aimed at coordinating the marketing efforts by both companies in external markets to promote modern Russian armored vehicles, missile, rocket and artillery weapons and interact with foreign customers on modernization and maintenance of the earlier supplied weaponry and military equipment.

"Rosoboronexport has exported 200+ tanks manufactured by Uralvagonzavod Concern over the last 5 years. Today, Rosoboronexport's order book includes the Concern's products worth about 50 billion rubles," said Alexander Mikheev, Rosoboronexport Director General. "In close cooperation with the world's largest manufacturer of Russian armored vehicles, we hope to promote new products in the external market which will take the lead in their segments. Our partners in the Middle East, Africa, Asia-Pacific region, and the former Soviet states are interested in Uralvagonzavod's products.

Rosoboronexport currently plans to market advanced weapons such as the T-14 Armata MBT, 152 mm 2S43 Malva, 155 mm Msta-S and 152 mm Koalitsiya-SV self-propelled howitzers, 2S40 Flox self-propelled gun, and the 82-mm Drok self-propelled mortar.
