

Rosoboronexport plans to conclude more than 10 contracts at Army 2021

Rosoboronexport JSC (part of the Rostec State Corporation) will hold dozens of negotiations and conclude contracts with foreign customers at Army 2021. The International military-technical forum will take place from August 22 to 28, 2021 on the premises of the Patriot Congress and Exhibition Center of the Armed Forces of the Russian Federation.

"Rosoboronexport plans to hold more than 70 negotiations with our foreign partners at Army 2021 and sign more than 10 contract documents. As a result, we will significantly increase the company's order book, which currently exceeds $52 billion, and ensure that Russian industrial enterprises will be kept busy with export orders," said Alexander Mikheev, Director General of Rosoboronexport.

More than 800 members of 35 foreign delegations, 17 of which are headed by defense ministers, their deputies and senior officials of our partner countries, have confirmed their visit to the forum at the invitation of Rosoboronexport. In total, representatives of around 150 countries invited through the Ministry of Defense of Russia, the Federal Service for Military-Technical Cooperation of Russia and the Rostec State Corporation are expected to arrive.

In addition to applications for negotiations, Rosoboronexport received requests from delegations from 40 countries to hold more than 500 presentations of Russian military, dual-use and civilian products.

"Rosoboronexport considers the Army Forum as the main platform enabling to demonstrate the widest range of Russian products for all services and branches of the armed forces, as well as equipment for special forces and police units to foreign customers," Alexander Mikheev added. "We will showcase equipment and weapons for the land forces, aircraft, advanced precision guided weapons for them, air defense and electronic warfare assets. There are a lot of applications for the demonstration of naval equipment, to which a separate cluster is dedicated at Army this year."

In 2021, for the first time, Rosoboronexport will organize an exhibit and a presentation pavilion next to the entrance group A of the forum. The pavilion and an outdoor area adjacent to it will feature small arms, including Kalashnikov AK-100 series, AK-200 series, AK-12, AK-15 and AK-19 assault rifles, KORD assault rifles, sniper rifles and machine guns manufactured by the Kalashnikov Concern and the Degtyarev Plant, which are part of the Rostec State Corporation. Rosoboronexport will enable its partners to test the exhibited small arms at 4 shooting ranges of the leading Russian manufacturers: the Kalashnikov Concern, the High-Precision Weapons Holding, the Tochmash Central Research Institute and Lobaev Arms.

"Our partners are interested in both proven weapons and military equipment, including those having a track record, and new products. Among them I can mention the newest T-14 Armata tank, combat vehicles based on the Boomerang combat platform that surpass all their foreign counterparts in performance, the Orion-E reconnaissance/strike UAV, which is the star of this year, the Antey-4000 battlefield anti-aircraft missile system designed to equip the land forces, the Pantsir-S1M air defense gun/missile system, the fifth-generation Su-57 fighter, helicopters, the BK-16 high-speed landing boat, as well as the latest small arms," said Alexander Mikheev.

It will be held on August 24 at 15.00 at the Alabino Proving Ground. The running and firing capabilities of army equipment and army aircraft as applied to maneuver actions of a joint force grouping will be showcased.
